DOUBLE HEADER FOR CIVIL ENG. SOCIETY

Meeting And Annual Banquet-- Prominent Graduates For Speakers

This week the Civil Engineering Society is to run a "double-header" in the way of meetings, having a lecture on Wednesday afternoon by a prominent graduate, followed on Thursday evening by the annual banquet.

The meeting which will be held tomorrow at 4.15 in Room 6 Lowell will comprise a stereopticon lecture by Mr. John H. Gregory 1895, a graduate of Course I. The subject is to be the sewage disposal of the city of Columbus, Ohio. This plant was designed and installed by Mr. Gregory.

Columbus being a city of about 200,000 inhabitants, is the largest city in the United States which has put in a very extensive system of sewage disposal by filtration. For a number of years extensive laboratory experiments were carried on by a large number of engineers upon the sewage of Columbus, and from these it was decided to use septic tank treatment, followed by sprinkling filters and then settling basins, after which the sewage is allowed to run directly into the river. These have been in operation now for over four years, and have given entire satisfaction.

This meeting affords a rare opportunity to hear about this large and important work from a high authority on the subject, this being the lecture that Mr. Gregory will deliver the same evening before the Boston Society of Civil Engineers. Besides this work, Mr. Gregory has been connected with other large and important sewage disposal plants.

Immediately after leaving the Institute he became assistant engineer on the Albany water filtration works, one of the first which were installed in this country. From this he was called to Columbus, where he had charge of the design and construction of both the sewage and water purification plants. At the present time, he is on the Passaic Valley Commission, which has one of the most difficult problems in sewage disposal to cope with of any in this country.

On Thursday evening, May 5, at 6.30 o'clock the annual banquet of the society is to be held at the American House. A number of interesting speakers have been secured, and a very large number of men have signified their intention of being present.

Mr. Lucius Tuttle, president of the Boston and Maine R. R., is to be one of the speakers. He is a member of the corporation of the Institute, and on the visiting committee of the Civil Engineering department. He has been president of the B. & M. for a great number of years, holding the position of general passenger agent before this appointment.

Mr. James P. Munroe 1882, one of the best known alumni of the Institute, secretary of the corporation, and formerly secretary of the Faculty, will also give a short talk. Mr. Munroe is a very well known man in Boston, and is associated with a large number of public and educational movements, among which may be mentioned the "1915" movement, of which he is now chairman. He is treasurer of a large manufacturing concern, the Munroe Felt and Paper Co.

A third speaker will be Mr. Albert F. Bemis 1893, who has recently been elected president of the Alumni Association. Mr. Bemis has always been very

FINAL ELECTIONS TO TECHNIQUE 1912 BOARD

First Meeting To Be Held Friday, And Work To Be Officially Commenced

The Technique Electoral Committee held its final session last Friday making the following elections to the board of Technique 1912: Statistician, Philip White Dalrymple of West Medford and Kenneth Cartwright of Wakefield; treasurer, Donald Earl Bent of Denver, Col.; assistant business manager, Harold Greenleaf of Savannah, Ill.; history editor, Donald Haff Radford of Oshkosh, Wis. The meeting adjourned with a rousing "M. I. T." for Technique 1912, led by Chairman Eichler.

Dalrymple was the winner of the freshman athletic championships last year and a member of the "T" as high jumper on the track team.

Cartwright is a member of the cross country team.

Bent was a Show principal this year, was a member of the class theatre committee, and is captain of Company A of the M. I. T. battalion.

Greenleaf is a member of the class relay and is one of our pole vaulters.

The final enrollment of the Technique 1912 board, as elected by the Electoral Committee, is as follows: Editor-in-chief, Harold Eric Kelbon; business manager, David Fry Benbow; treasurer, Donald Earl Bent; art editor, Gordon Irving Edgerton; athletic editor, Archibald Eichler; societies editor, Frederick Barker; professors editor, Randall Cremer; grind editor, Dwight Mead Wyman; statisticians, Philip White Dalrymple and Kenneth Cartwright; assistant business manager, Harold Greenleaf; and history editor, Donald Haff Radford.

Editor-in-chief Kelbon announces that the first meeting of the board of Technique 1912 will be held this week Friday at 4.15 in the Technique office. Don Stevens, editor-in-chief of Technique 1911 will give some suggestions and advice to the board and work will officially commence at this date. The art work will be assigned and the business department will start their campaign for advertisements.

Paris, May 2.—Two new prizes for the successful accomplishing of future aerial feats were announced at a luncheon given yesterday in honor of Louis Pauthan, the French aeronaut, who won $50,000 by flying from London to Manchester. The combined value of the two latest rewards is $50,000. One is for a flight from Paris to London, and the other for an aerial trip in England.

Lima, Peru, May 2.—The Peruvian minister to the Argentine Republic, E. De La Riva Agüero, has resigned that post. His letter of resignation, which has been made public, has caused a great sensation.

He asserts that the direction of foreign affairs in Peru during the last 19 months has been characterized by many mistakes and patriotism obliges him to withdraw from office.

London, May 3.—Commander Robert E. Peary came here today to receive the gold medal from the Royal Geographical Society and to deliver his lecture on his trip to the north pole. He will receive the medal on Wednesday. He expects to be in Europe several weeks and will fill a number of lecture engagements.

The faculty of Michigan has recommended to the trustees that the students on the Daily be given college credit not to exceed eight hours.

FIRST INTERCLASS GAME GOES TO 1913

Better All Round Playing Gives Freshmen Victory-- Score 7--1

The freshmen vanquished the sophomores yesterday in a rather one-sided game, by a score of seven to one. This was the first game of the inter-class series, and from the way the freshmen handled themselves it looks as if they would clinch the championship in the next game. The sophomores made some remarkable errors and batted poorly.

1912's one run came in the fourth inning, when Torrey was hit by a pitched ball, stole second, and came home when Peck let a hot grounder get through him. Crocker led off for the freshmen with a sizzling three bagger and came home on a wild throw to third. Elwell got to first on McGuire's error, took second on Jones' wild throw, and came home on Severance's hit. Severance then stole second and scored when Sampson banged out a hit to centre field, making a total of three runs in the first inning. In the second they secured two more tallies. Hamilton drew a pass and Crocker struck out. Then Elwell knocked the ball away out in centre for a clean home run. In the sixth, with two out, Eastman drew a pass, stole second and took third on a passed ball. Sampson got to first on Reeve's error, and took second when Eastman went to third and then both scored on Thompson's hit.

The freshmen secured a number of hits but they would not have scored so many times if Jones had had the support which he deserved. Hamilton pitched a strong game, holding the sophomores to only one hit, and was given ironclad support by his infield, who had only one error chalked up against them.

At the University of Pennsylvania the senior class is heavily in debt. Efforts are being made to obtain the class dues, but it is found to be a hopeless task.

Ninety-three men are out for track and there are sixty candidates for the baseball team at the University of Colorado. In each case this is the largest squad in the history of the school.

Efforts are being made at Minnesota to secure an appropriation of $5,000 to be used in paying the officers and band master of the cadet orchestra.

At a recent meeting of the student body of Stanford a sum of almost $20,000 was raised for the erection of a club house on the campus.

The announcement made by Mr. Francis that this would probably be his last year with the Show is indeed a sad one. To him more than to any other individual is due the praise for placing Tech Show at its present high standard.

He has for six years freely given all his strength and energy to the productions of the Shows, and it has been his earnest desire to produce each year a better Show than the year before. The result is that today Tech Show is considered the best college show in the country. This is not an idle statement, but a statement backed up with the testimony of men well versed in amateur theatricals.

The esteem in which Mr. Francis is held by all who have come into intimate contact with him is evinced by the generous contributions to the handsome purse which was presented to him at the Show dinner. Certain it is that Mr. Francis, if he leaves, will leave behind a host of friends who will wish him well in any venture he may undertake.

In regard to Spectator's criticism of the handicaps given in Saturday's race, it is only fair to state that Coach Kanaaly had arranged to send the handicaps from Philadelphia, but on Saturday morning they had not arrived. It then fell upon Captain Allen to make them out, and as all he had to judge from were the results of the recent spring meets, he was in justice only able to give new men the limit handicap, and this was done in all cases. The handicaps given to men who placed in the former meets are not to be greatly criticised and under the circumstances the new men need not complain, although it is to be regretted that they did not receive the encouragement which might stimulate them to report for regular practice. An illustration of the uncertainty of giving new men liberal handicaps was given Saturday when a new man captured first place in the broad jump, in which no handicaps were given.

But—there is another chance next fall.

COMMUNICATION.

Editors of The Tech:—

Oh, those "liberal" handicaps last Saturday, given for the purpose of bringing out new men for the track team! And then the scratch men finished first in all the events except the quarter, half, pole vault and low hurdles! Other data are interesting:—In the mile the winner was given 20 yards handicap but preferred to start from scratch and even then won by several yards. In the 880 the winner crossed the tape by a much larger margin than his handicap. But the two-mile was by far the worst of all, the scratch man winning by nearly a quarter of a lap.

This method of handicapping not only is discouraging to all but the best men on the team—those who need the encouragement least—but also makes the meet very uninteresting to all concerned. This was particularly noticeable on Saturday by the fact that the inter-fraternity baseball game soon drew the entire attention of the spectators.

Sincerely,

A SPECTATOR.

COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor of The Tech.

I beg to submit the following rules for Tech men to follow in regard to track meets:

1. On the day of a track meet, be sure to make arrangements to go to the Ball Game. It is much better to pay half a dollar to encourage a failing industry than to spend a quarter for the support of our own affluent track management.

2. By all means persuade your friends not to go to the meet. There is much more air at the Field for the runners when the audience is small, besides, a large attendance might encourage the athletes to break some records.

3. Never take a girl to a track meet—it distracts the attention of the contestants from the business in hand, and imposes an extra load on the grandstand.

4. Never congratulate or encourage track men. Unlike other athletes, they thrive under discouragement and indifference.

5. Be sure to ask your seat mate "How in Hades HE ever got his numerals." This delicate attention will be sure to please him. If he appears confused, inquire "Why in blazes didn't you get your T?" He probably never cared enough about it to try for one, and you may stimulate him to greater efforts.

6. If your friend doesn't get first inquire gently "Why didn't you run the first lap faster?" You know infinitely more about running a track race than he does.

7. If he did get first, scowl, and ask "Why didn't you break the record?"

8. If he breaks the record, don't say anything—he might do it again.

Respectfully,

JONATHAN S.

NEWS OF THE THEATRES

SHUBERT THEATRE.

Last night at the Shubert Theatre before a large and enthusiastic audience, William Faversham, surrounded by an excellent company, produced for the first time in this city Stephen Phillips' poetic drama "Herod." Never in his long and varied career has the popular star achieved a greater personal triumph than in his present sumptuous production. The tragedy deals with Herod's passion for the beautiful, his jealousy for his brother Aristobulus, the high priest, his murder of Aristobulus and Marianne, and finally his madness. Throughout the action of the piece Mr. Faversham acted with great power, reaching a climax in his masterful work in the final act, with its semblance of approaching madness, and the final cataleptic condition.

Produced for the first time in 1900 at Her Majesty's Theatre in London, the "Herod" of Stephen Phillips has since become a library classic, having reached its seventh edition. The play itself, while beautifully written and full of poetic lines, is better suited for the library than for the stage, on account of its lack of action.

Mr. Faversham, however, as actor-manager rose to the occasion and enhanced the production with the most elaborate and sumptuous stage setting recently seen in Boston.

Miss Julie Opp made a charming and fascinating Marianne, although she spoiled what was otherwise an excellent portrayal by faulty and spasmodic reading of her lines.

The supporting company numbered two hundred people.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

Last night "The County Fair," immortalized by the late Neil Burgess, was given its final presentation in stock in this city by the John Craig Stock Company at the Castle Square Theatre.

The hit of the evening was the irresistible humor of Donald Meek's portrayal of Abigail Price, the role created by Mr. Burgess. Mr. Meek occupied the center of the stage practically throughout the piece, yet never did he fail to bring laughter to his audience.

Another distinct hit was scored by Miss Young as Taggs, the waif and tomboy. Others who were seen to good advantage were George Hassell, Walter Walker, Bert Young and Wilfred Young.

KEITH'S THEATRE.

An instantaneous hit was made by George Beban and his seven associates in "The Sign of the Rose" at Keith's yesterday. Beban gave an excellent impersonation of an Italian, which will long be remembered as one of the gems of his varied career.

Others on the excellent bill include Mary Norman, Tom Waters, Trovao, Gasch Sisters, World and Kingston, Dennis Brothers, Cotter and Boulden and Dick Lynch.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

"Monsieur Beaucaire" with James K. Hackett appearing in the name part, began its last week at the Majestic Theatre last night before a large audience.

AMERICAN MUSIC HALL.

Another "all-star" bill was presented at the American Music Hall last night headed by Julian Ettinge and Violet McMillan.

PARK THEATRE.

William Hodge gave Bostonians a new type of Americans to laugh at when he came here in "The Man from Home," and there might have been some question in regard to the reception of Hoosier humor, but the experience of the past 17 weeks has thrown all doubt aside, and the audiences at the Park Theatre are even larger than ever.
